

For immediate release
09th November 2009

Bring Chings Exotic Mushrooms home today

Why not try something a little different tonight with Chings Exotic mushrooms, available now in Tesco stores nationwide. Celebrity chef Ching He Huang has chosen 5 different varieties including oyster, shiitake, eryngi and black poplar mushrooms to make up the delectable selection pack, offering a range of flavours and textures that are perfect for an array of dishes.

Ching He Huang's passion for healthy, delicious Chinese food has brought about this new range of mushrooms, which are suitable for many recipes, not just oriental ones.

The mushrooms are interestingly, British grown; so you can be sure of outstanding freshness, without any compromise on authenticity and taste. They are also extremely healthy, packed with vitamins and minerals.

If you're looking for an oriental taste, why not try Chings mushrooms in a stir-fry with chilli, beancurd and soy. Or for a more traditional dish, cause a taste sensation by creating a mixed mushroom risotto.

Chings Exotic Mushrooms are a must-try ingredient for every passionate cook. Available from Tesco stores nationwide, priced at £1.99 for a 150g pack.

www.chinghehuang.com Official website for Ching He Huang

-ENDS-

Notes to Editors

Chings Exotic Mushrooms; supplied exclusively by Maritime Food Group, 2 Delacourt Road, Blackheath, London, SE3 8XA

For further information please contact:

Maritime Food Group

Laura Davis: +44 (0) 208 305 5080 / laura@maritimefoods.com